PHOTO LICENSING & IMAGE OWNERSHIP

Official statement from Instagram

“We can’t provide you with any legal advice.
If you’re not sure what you are legally authorized to use the content, do not post it Instagram.
Posting copyrighted content without permission might be a violation of the law. If you’ve already posted it, you should remove it from Instagram”

Do you need permission?

Yes.

It’s important to always ask for permission before posting someone’s intellectual property on Instagram

Ask for Permission*

Credit the Original Artist/Creator

Use Public Domain Images

 Your choice whether you ask, but if you choose not to make sure you credit and respond to all copyright requests*

Baristadaily

Long week ahead... I need coffee!
|✨ Get Featured with #BaristaDaily & Tag us 📸|
📷by @dolly_pawton

blackbirdfly

Home sweet home. I think I'll stay awhile ✌🏻

airbnb We'd love to share this shot on Airbnb social channels and materials. Agree to our Terms of Use http://abnb.co/terms, reply with #Airbnbphoto @Airbnb and link to the Airbnb home if we can feature your photo.

blackbirdfly @airbnb #airbnbphoto 💛 https://www.airbnb.com/rooms/21563924?guests=1&adults=1&sl_alternate_dates_exclusion=true&source_impression_id=p3_1557866830_K3nzwcTUY37kZapt

airbnb

Designer and Superhost Vlad built this tiny retreat on a mountaintop high above Boulder. It's secluded enough to feel like a true escape, but also just five minutes from the Gold Hill Inn, where you can tuck into a six-course meal and then dance it off to live music.

Photo: @blackbiirdfly